The Idaho Water Resource Board will hold a telephonic work session at 4:00 p.m. Wednesday (June 4) in Boise, the Board announced today.

The work session is designed to let Board members discuss in advance issues related to a pair of matters that may come up at the Board's next regular meeting June 27 in Priest Lake.

These included:

- Temporary changes in the Water Supply Bank rules; and
- A grant request from Trout Unlimited to fund a study of a proposed project to uncover Cottonwood Creek in Boise.

The Board will also hold an executive session to discuss federal reserved water rights, possible litigation and other legal matters. The executive session is closed to the public.

The telephonic work session meeting begins at 4:00 p.m. at the Idaho Department of Water Resources state office, 1301 N. Orchard Street in Boise.

The regular portion of the work session is open to the public. Citizens who wish to participate by telephone at their own expense should contact IDWR (208) 327-7900, for information on how to do so.

The work session meeting will be held in a facility that meets accessibility requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act. If you need assistance to attend, participate in or understand the work session, please contact Rita Fleck, (208) 327-7880, in advance so arrangements can be made.
